BUSINESS DESCRIPTION

Flowercraft Garden Center (Flowercraft) is a local, family-owned garden store located at 550 Bayshore Boulevard in the Bayview District. It was founded by Philip Lerner in 1974. Flowercraft sells a large variety of plants, trees, soil amendments and related hardware. Flowercraft wants people to experience the joys of planting and growing ornamental and edible plants.

Philip Lerner is the owner of the adjacent business, Floorcraft, and wanted to transform a vacant car wash at 550 Bayshore Boulevard into a space for plants and trees in this commercial corridor street. Lerner and his team called the garden center Floorcraft Garden Center. They have repurposed different spaces and materials to work for their business. The interior of the former car wash was transformed into a greenhouse for their houseplant selection. They added additional shelves, tables, and racks to the space to display their products and merchandise. The existing outdoor 20-foot-tall business sign originally belonged to the carwash. In 2005, the business decided to change their name to "Flowercraft," and their motto is "We Sell Happiness".

Flowercraft prides themselves in their large selection and vast knowledge of plants. Flowercraft sells many seasonal plants while maintaining an affordable price. In response to California's water shortage, Flowercraft has a large selection of drought tolerant plants, trees, and shrubs. They also provide natural and organic fertilizers and pest control. In addition to having a large palette of plants, supplies, and materials, Flowercraft believes in educating the communities on topics they have experience in to allow the customer to make the best decision. Flowercraft hosts free workshops that are open to the public; topics include beekeeping, fertilizing, rose care and pruning, California native plants, and many more.

Located at the intersection of three neighborhoods, Bernal Heights, Bayview, and the Excelsior Neighborhood District, Flowercraft has consistently been serving and supporting these multiple communities. During the December holiday season, Flowercraft transforms the garden center as a Christmas tree wonderland for the community. Trees are often donated to multiple organizations in the Bayview, Hunters Point, Tenderloin, and the Mission. Flowercraft has also provided monetary assistance and funding to multiple fundraising events, community gardens, neighborhood garden tours, and local schools. Some specific organizations include City of Dreams, Interfaith Housing Development Corporation, NCH Community Garden, Rooftop School, Urban Wildlife Rescue, and many more.

Richard Kurylo, Legacy Business Program Manager
Legacy Business Program
San Francisco Office of Small Business
LegacyBusiness@sfgov.org

Dear Mr. Kurylo:

I am writing a Letter of Nomination in support of Flowercraft Garden Center joining the City's Legacy Business Program. In addition to fitting into the requirements necessary to become a Legacy Business, Flowercraft Garden Center has a unique and vibrant history with deep roots in San Francisco.

The founder of Flowercraft Garden Center, Philip Lerner—now in his eighties, opened the business 45 years ago. The business has remained fully operational and under family ownership ever since. In 1974, Philip owned Floorcraft, a flooring and appliance store, but had a dream of turning the defunct Bayshore Car Wash into a garden center. And this is exactly what he did.

Flowercraft, located on Bayshore Boulevard, retains both the original structure and the 20-foot exterior sign of the former carwash. The interior has been transformed to accommodate a greenhouse for houseplants and to maximize floorspace in order to provide a plethora of garden related merchandise to the neighborhood.

Flowercraft operates as an active community partner with its ever-growing number of dedicated, intergenerational clientele. In addition to providing free horticultural workshops, the company regularly donates to many local nonprofits and schools including City of Dreams, Drag Queen Bingo and Homeless Prenatal. Additionally, the company, which transforms into a Christmas tree wonderland every year, donates trees to several organizations during the winter holiday season. I believe their dedication to our community and city has been reflected in their actions.

While the surrounding neighborhood continues to change, Flowercraft remains a constant. It has served the residents of San Francisco for decades, and I am thrilled to have the shop in my district. I strongly support their application to be declared a Legacy Business and it is my honor to submit this nomination on their behalf.

Best regards,

FLOWERCRAFT GARDEN CENTER

Section 4: Written Historical Narrative

a. Provide a short history of the business from the date the business opened in San Francisco to the present day, including the ownership history. For businesses with multiple locations, include the history of the original location in San Francisco (including whether it was the business's founding and or headquartered location) and the opening dates and locations of all other locations.

In 1974, Phillip Lerner, the owner of Floorcraft at 470 Bayshore Blvd. near Cortland Avenue, a flooring and appliance store, had a dream of turning the defunct Bayshore Car Wash at 550 Bayshore Blvd. across the street into a garden center. Thus, Floorcraft Garden Center was born. The original metal building that was the car wash still remains.

In 2005, upon the advice of a marketing class study by San Francisco State University students, the name of the garden center was changed to Flowercraft.

The inception of Flowercraft Garden Center is indeed a humble one. Turning a carwash into a viable garden center, while maintaining the original structure, was no small task. The interior of the former car wash was remodeled to accommodate a greenhouse for houseplants. Shelves were built to stack fertilizers and pest control products. Later, tables were built to display pottery, thus maximizing floor space. Outdoor racks were installed to accommodate a wide range of soil mixtures and amendments and terraced tables to display annual color, vegetables and herbs, bonsai plants, groundcover, and small perennials. The 20-foot outdoor sign is original to the former carwash.

To this day, Flowercraft Garden Center remains a family-owned, independent garden center (IGC) under the auspices of Phillip Lerner and his son, Jeff. The business enjoys a unique location on the cusp of the Bayview, Bernal, and Mission neighborhoods.

Flowercraft Garden Center has served generations of San Franciscans and Bay Area residents. Over the years, many have brought their children and grandchildren to discover the joys of shopping at the store. Flowercraft's tagline, "We Sell Happiness" certainly rings true. The business has a strong, dedicated following and attracts more and more new customers every year, from Generation Z on up. Though the face of the neighborhood has greatly changed over the years with many new boutique businesses, Flowercraft remains, relatively unchanged. The business is still standing after nearly five decades.

b. Describe any circumstances that required the business to cease operations in San Francisco for more than six months?

Flowercraft Garden Center has been in continuous operation since it was founded. The business is open seven days a week throughout the year with the exception of Thanksgiving, Christmas Eve, Christmas, and New Year's Day.

c. Is the business a family-owned business? If so, give the generational history of the business.

Flowercraft Garden Center has been owned by the original founder, Phillip Lerner and his family during its entire business operation. Phillip is now approaching his 80s, but remains very involved in the garden center's operations.

d. Describe the ownership history when the business ownership is not the original owner or a family-owned business.

The ownership history of Flowercraft Garden Center is as follows:

1974 to Present: Phillip Lerner

e. When the current ownership is not the original owner and has owned the business for less than 30 years, the applicant will need to provide documentation of the existence of the business prior to current ownership to verify it has been in operation for 30+ years. Please use the list of supplemental documents and/or materials as a guide to help demonstrate the existence of the business prior to current ownership.

Documentation of the existence of the business verifying it has been in operation for 30+ years is provided in this Legacy Business Registry application.

f. Note any other special features of the business location, such as, if the property associated with the business is listed on a local, state, or federal historic resources registry.

The historic resource status of the building of the building that houses Flowercraft is classified by the Planning Department as Category B, Unknown / Age Eligible, with regard to the California Environmental Quality Act.

a. Describe the business's contribution to the history and/or identity of the neighborhood, community or San Francisco.

Since Flowercraft was established in 1974, its location has been in an industrial area with businesses such as Goodman Lumber and auto repair shops. To this day, there are no other garden centers in the vicinity that offer the full spectrum of plants, trees, soil amendments, and related hardware. Flowercraft meets the needs of a faithful customer base as well as the trades, while gaining new fans with a lush selection of quality plants and earth-friendly gardening products.

Flowercraft is a unique, locally owned and operated business that has been enthusiastically supported, respected, and loved by members of the surrounding neighborhoods and the greater San Francisco area since 1974. In addition, it has become "the go-to place" for materials, plants, and supplies for local independent gardeners and landscapers who trust the quality of plants and products.

Over the years, Flowercraft has become an integral part of the neighborhoods surrounding its location (The Mission, Bernal Heights, Potrero Hill, Hunters Point and the Excelsior) and has a large following of faithful customers. Several employees live in these neighborhoods, and it is not unusual for customers to stop them in markets, stores, or on the sidewalk to ask them for gardening tips. Young families shop at Flowercraft where one or both parents recall coming to Flowercraft as children, and an elderly man reminds the staff every holiday season that he has come to Flowercraft for his Christmas tree each year since the store's opening. Walking through the streets of Bernal Heights, it is common to see house after house with plants from Flowercraft adorning their gardens.

Flowercraft is an oasis of beauty and tranquility in an industrial section of Bayshore Boulevard. There are customers who often come in just to browse and enjoy the beauty of the garden center, or to visit the resident cats Cookie, Jet, and Dot. During the past year of the pandemic, with so many people staying home, the customer base has grown immensely. New and established home gardeners are spending more time engaging in the joys of planting and growing ornamental and edible plants and experiencing the meaning of Flowercraft's motto: "We Sell Happiness."

In San Francisco, when people think of a great place for brunch, they think of the Buena Vista. When they think of a great variety store, they think of Cliff's Variety. When they think of great espresso, they think of Caffe Trieste. When they think of a great place for plants and gardening supplies, they think of Flowercraft.

b. Is the business (or has been) associated with significant events in the neighborhood, the city, or the business industry?

Flowercraft has been indirectly associated with numerous significant events throughout San Francisco through donations and monetary assistance to organizations that organize the events, including the following:

- Alvarado Elementary School – Silent Auction
- Bayview Opera House – Winter Wonderland
- Flynn Elementary School – Silent Auction
- Friends of Noe Valley – Noe Valley Garden Tour
- Goettingen Neighbors Group – Calendar Benefit
- Lakeshore Elementary School – Spring Auction
- Mission Kids Co-op – Spring Fiesta
- Noe Valley Garden Tour
- Portola Garden Tour (annual scholarship event)
- Riordan High School – Mimosa Morning & Marketplace
- St. Kevin's Dinner Dance & Auction
- Save Nature – Bowl the Planet Fundraiser Silent Auction

c. Has the business ever been referenced in an historical context? Such as in a business trade publication, media, or historical documents?

Herb Caen and Leah Garchik, both writers with the San Francisco Chronicle, have fondly written about Flowercraft in their newspaper columns.

Flowercraft is currently listed as one of “The Best 10 Nurseries & Gardening in San Francisco on Yelp. The store regularly receives recommendations from readers on Next Door. The April/May 2015 edition of San Francisco Cottages & Gardens magazine speaks of Flowercraft’s Garden Center in the article “The Urban Jungle.” The San Francisco Examiner readers voted Flowercraft as the best Garden Center in their annual Reader’s Choice Awards for 2016. Annually, Yelp awards Flowercraft with a certificate that says “People Love Us on Yelp!”

d. Is the business associated with a significant or historical person?

To this day, many local San Franciscans of note continue to patronize Flowercraft, including: Tom Ammiano - a former member of the California State Assembly from the 17th district as well as a member of the San Francisco Board of Supervisors from District 9; Alonzo King - dancer and choreographer, founder and artistic director of LINES Ballet based in San Francisco; Topher Delaney, a highly-regarded landscape architect who designed the gardens at the Avon Breast Cancer Center at Zuckerberg San Francisco General Hospital, whose commissions include: Guide Dogs for the Blinds and the UCSF Medicinal Garden; and Bob Pritikin who wrote the groundbreaking book, "Christ Was An Ad Man." Herb Caen and Leah Garchik have fondly written about Flowercraft in their columns in the San Francisco Chronicle.

e. How does the business demonstrate its commitment to the community?

From the beginning, Flowercraft has maintained its commitment to supporting the community. The business brightens the lives of others through donations and monetary assistance to nonprofit organizations for their fundraising events, community gardens, neighborhood garden tours, local area schools, etc. A partial listing includes the following:

- Buen Dia Family School
- City of Dreams (youth mentorship program)
- Education Outside
- Farming Hope (culinary job training for the formerly incarcerated)
- Florence Fang Asian Community Garden
- George Washington Carver Elementary School
- Guadalupe Elementary School
- Homeless Prenatal
- Interfaith Housing Development Corporation
- John O’Connell High School
- Master Gardeners of San Francisco & San Mateo

- San Francisco Housing Authority Housing Development
- San Francisco Parks Alliance
- San Francisco Unified School District Early Education Department
- San Francisco Waldorf School
- Source Ministry
- Tenderloin Demonstration Garden
- The Plant Exchange
- Treasure Island Student Farms
- University of California Master Gardeners
- Urban Wildlife Rescue
- United Council of Human Service
- Veterans Administration

... and many, many more.

In addition, Flowercraft serves as a sanctuary for all creatures that find their way there. Flowercraft employees have cared for, fostered, and adopted frogs, turtles, cats, and dogs. The current resident cats are very popular with Flowercraft customers.

f. Provide a description of the community the business serves.

As only one of three garden centers in San Francisco, Flowercraft Garden Center is proud to serve local area residents. Flowercraft also has customers from throughout the entire Bay Area.

g. Is the business associated with a culturally significant building/structure/site/object/interior?

Flowercraft is located on the site of the old Bayshore Car Wash. In 1974, Flowercraft Home Improvement Center acquired a vacant car wash directly across the street. It was a dream of the owners to create an oasis of plants and trees in the “industrial district.” Thus, Flowercraft Garden Center was born. More than 40 years later (including a slight name change), Flowercraft continues to flourish and has maintained the original building and signage.

h. How would the community be diminished if the business were to be sold, relocated, shut down, etc.?

As the oldest established garden center in the same location for over four decades in San Francisco, and with an outstanding reputation for quality plants and service, Flowercraft caters to a diverse population all over the City and Bay Area. It remains steadfast in its commitment to contribute to a multitude of organizations and the groups they serve. Flowercraft provides the full range of products and plants that the novice or experienced gardener needs to create or enhance their landscape and to maintain it. The entire Flowercraft staff has experience and/or training in environmental horticulture and integrated pest management. For these reasons, Flowercraft has been an “anchor” in the communities it serves, and its absence would be detrimental to the many people and organizations that have relied on it for decades.

a. Describe the business and the essential features that define its character.

Flowercraft is a full-service garden center. The business is known for its expert knowledge and service. All the employees have experience, knowledge, and/or education in environmental horticulture, as well as experience in a retail setting. Flowercraft also provides no-cost workshops to educate the public in areas such as:

- Beekeeping
- California Natives
- Fertilizing
- Landscaping 101
- Raising Hens & Chicks
- Rose Care and Pruning
- Succulents
- Water Wise Gardening

... and more.

Flowercraft believes in empowering its customers to make informed decisions in their landscape, be that a small patio deck or a spacious estate. As the business is seasonal, Flowercraft takes great care to bring in products that reflect the seasons. They also offer a wide variety seeds, indoor and outdoor pottery, short- and long-handled tools, gloves, and watering cans. Flowercraft is proud to offer natural and organic fertilizers and pest control.

As water supply continues to loom as an important issue, Flowercraft offers a large palette of drought tolerant plants, trees, and shrubs. The store also expanded their cactus/succulent section to meet the demand for low-water plants.

b. How does the business demonstrate a commitment to maintaining the historical traditions that define the business, and which of these traditions should not be changed in order to retain the businesses historical character? (e.g., business model, goods and services, craft, culinary, or art forms)

Flowercraft’s tag line "We Sell Happiness" certainly rings true, as the business has a decades-long following of customers who continue to seek out Flowercraft’s products and plant knowledge. Flowercraft continues to create, deliver, and offer value, while remaining innovative in their plant palette, and maintaining a reasonable pricing structure.

Traditionally, the December holiday season is a special time at Flowercraft, as the garden center is transformed into a Christmas tree wonderland. Flowercraft enjoys a faithful following who come for their freshly cut trees, garlands, wreaths, poinsettias, cyclamen, and other seasonal gifts and offerings. Flowercraft distributes surplus trees in poorer areas including the Bayview/Hunters Point, Tenderloin, and the Mission. Flowercraft also supports several organizations during this time, bringing joy and cheer to children, adults, and the aged. Flowercraft is known and recognized for their holiday generosity and a benefactor to the many worthy organizations in the area throughout the year.

c. How has the business demonstrated a commitment to maintaining the special physical features that define the business? Describe any special exterior and interior physical characteristics of the space occupied by the business (e.g. signage, murals, architectural details, neon signs, etc.).

Flowercraft Garden Center has and will continue to maintain the original structure of the old Bayshore Car Wash. The signage is also original. Though the neighborhood has seen new businesses, Flowercraft has retained its original look; it's bit dated, yes, but the community loves it!

When you enter the Garden Center, you will be greeted by a giant stone Buddha who has seen better days! He's been bumped and damaged over the years; his hands are shattered to the point where the rebar underneath is clearly visible. But this Jolly Hoi Toi Buddha (as he is formally referred to), has been with Flowercraft since almost the beginning – through inclement weather, earthquakes, construction, etc. Flowercraft considers the Buddha statue to be their mascot and lucky charm!

d. When the current ownership is not the original owner and has owned the business for less than 30 years; the applicant will need to provide documentation that demonstrates the current owner has maintained the physical features or traditions that define the business, including craft, culinary, or art forms. Please use the list of supplemental documents and/or materials as a guide to help demonstrate the existence of the business prior to current ownership.

The current business registration has been maintained by the same family since the business was founded. Documentation that demonstrates the business has been a garden center for 30+ years is included in this Legacy Business Registry application.

HEY LOOKA HERE: When Herb Rosen wondered if St. Francis de Sales was the patron saint of department stores, it wasn't the signal to start a new game. Nevertheless, Atty. Robert M. Chilvers suggests St. Joan of Arc for welders and St. Martin of Porres for bartenders, while Nancy Owens Gallagher likes St. Boniface for Elizabeth Arden, Sts. Peter and Paul for bankers, and St. Basil for the Calif. Culinary Academy, yesssss. Not only that, Martin Risard, rector of St. Andrew's Episcopal in Oakland, runs a travel business on the side and of course is known to his colleagues, like Rector Bill Clancey Jr., as St. Martin of Tours ... Anybody care to play around with St. Francis of Assisi for the Castro? Okay.

Dressing Up a Garden

BY ELIZABETH NAVAS FINLEY

■ LEARNING FROM LOS ANGELES: If '50s furniture is a hot collectible, can plastic flamingoes be far behind? A recently advertised special on them at Floorcraft Garden Center, 550 Bayshore Boulevard, brought in a crowd of buyers, said a nursery clerk. "We sold a lot. I guess people think they're camp," she said. The store has stocked the birds for years and finds them steady sellers at $4.98 each.

■ THE REAL THING: Garden antiques, like the indoor variety, have a look of age that can't be reproduced. They are the rarest of garden accents since they stay on the estate from one century to the next, rather than being sold and passed around like furniture. The Georgian urn on plinth shown is part of a small collection of outdoor antiques at Therien & Co., 411 Vermont Street. Smith & Hawken in Mill Valley will also be stocking such garden antiques as Italian marble jardineres, stone lions and an Adams style ram's mask with garlands.

■ ITALIAN PALAZZO: Nothing says Italian garden like the terra cotta pot. In Florence, pots are planted with lemon trees or gerani-

Flowercraft Garden Center

The Squeaky Wheel Gets the Grease.

In the mid 70's, our founder had a vision of turning the then defunct Bayshore Car Wash into a garden center. It was a grand endeavor, renovating an old metal building and its surroundings into a showplace for plants and trees.

The original building still stands, along with the same 20-foot street sign that greets you while driving along Bayshore Boulevard. Our shelves are a little dusty, the wheels on our Radio Flyer wagons are a bit squeaky, and we still embrace old-fashioned sensibilities, while welcoming all who come here.

We proudly serve three generations of families here at Flowercraft - grandparents who bring their sons, daughters and grandchildren to shop - wagons in tow - perhaps with a squeaky wheel or two that resounds throughout the garden center.

Come to Flowercraft today to experience some old-fashioned sensibility combined with first-class service. Our garden center has everything you need to build your dream landscape. And if the squeaky wheel on your wagon needs some grease, do let us know.

(p.s. Mention "Squeaky Wheel" to a member of our staff and get 15% off any plant or tree! Through Sunday, October 14th.)

Dear Lydia,

We would like to thank you from the bottom of our hearts for donating all of those beautiful trees to us for our Winter Wonderland event this year. They truly helped create an ambience of holiday cheer all along Mendell Plaza.

You should have already received a letter with necessary tax receipt info, but we wanted to say thanks once again. We've sent along a photo of our Santa's Village with some of our staff, volunteers, and attendees surrounding two of the trees you donated. You guys donated more than you said you would and we really appreciated it!

We truly appreciate our relationship with Flowercraft and look forward to seeing you in the New Year!

All the Best,

Dear Lydia,

I'm very sorry that I excluded this extraordinary donation in my previous acknowledgement letter. Thank you so much for the very generous donation of the beautiful Japanese maple tree to Nihonmachi Little Friends (NLF)! It has been planted and is the centerpiece of our front garden!

NLF, now in its 43rd year, continues to operate quality direct service programs for over 200 preschoolers and elementary school-age children on an annual basis. The organization also maintains its mental health consultation services, parenting workshops, Friday evening respite care, family socials, community events, and cultural celebrations.

In May 2017, the organization completed its preschool building addition to its historic 1830 Sutter Street building, and has merged its preschool-age programs into one secure and permanent facility. This will now insure that NLF can continue to provide its valuable programs for generations of children to come.

We truly appreciate your generosity and thoughtfulness, recognizing the important work we do for young children, their families and the community.

Warmest regards,

Dear Flowercraft Garden Center,

On Saturday, September 21, we will hold our biggest fundraiser of the year, a dinner dance with live and silent auctions. These auctions are the highlight of the evening. On behalf of the St. Kevin's Dinner Dance and Auction Event Committee, St Kevin Catholic Church and myself, we are grateful for your generous gift valued at $130.00 (Gift Certificate and Basket).

With your donation, St. Kevin's Annuzzi Hall will receive a deserved and needed facelift. As you may be aware, Annuzzi Hall is a unique space in Bernal Heights. We support the community by providing programs for the poor, space for the community, and parish events.

Thank you so much for helping us in our continuing effort to provide a space where important events, community service programs and social gathering can occur and bring people together in our great neighborhood.

Together we can make a difference. Once again, thank you for your support. Your kindness is appreciated.

Warmest regards,

Lydia,

Thank you immensely for Flowercraft's support for Farming Hope, helping us employ and empower our neighbors experiencing homelessness.

Farming Hope would be nowhere without donations from supporters like your store.

We are excited at all the growth this year: building our home base urban garden and launching a job skills curriculum at our rooftop garden. Your help makes this growth possible (literally) with plants, seeds, soil, and the positivity you share with us.

We hope our work has an impact not just in the lives of our newly employed homeless friends, but in the life of the community, as we build spaces to gather across boundaries & around food.

With love and gratitude,
The Farming Hope Squad

Thank you

Business Description

Flowercraft Garden Center (Flowercraft) is a local, family-owned garden store in the Bayview District since 1974. Flowercraft Garden Center, started by Philip Lerner, is located at 550 Bayshore Boulevard. Flowercraft sells a large variety of plants, trees, soil amendments and related hardware.

Flowercraft has evolved into its present form from the original vision at 550 Bayshore Boulevard. Philip Lerner is the owner of the adjacent business, Floorcraft, and wanted to transform 550 Bayshore Boulevard into a space for plants and trees in this commercial corridor street. Lerner and his team then transformed a vacant car wash into a garden center called Floorcraft Garden Center. They have repurposed different spaces and materials to work for their business. The interior of the former car wash was transformed into a greenhouse for their houseplant selection. They added additional shelves, tables, and racks to the space to display their products and merchandise. The existing outdoor twenty-foot tall business sign – which currently says: “We Sell Happiness! Flowercraft Garden Center 550 Bayshore Blvd” originally belonged to the carwash. In 2005, the business has decided to change their name to “Flowercraft”. Their motto is “We Sell Happiness”. Flowercraft wants people to experience the joys of planting and growing ornamental and edible plants.

Flowercraft prides themselves in their larger selection of plants and vast knowledge of plants. Flowercraft provides a large selection of seasonal plants while maintaining an affordable price. To meet California’s water shortage, Flowercraft has a large selection of drought tolerant plants, trees, and shrubs. They also provide natural and organic fertilizers and pest control. In addition to having a large palette of plants, supplies and materials, Flowercraft believes in educating the communities on topics they have experience in to allow the customer to make the best decision. Flowercraft hosts free workshops that are open to the public; topics include beekeeping, fertilizing, rose care and pruning, California native plants and many more.

Located at the intersection of three neighborhoods, Bernal Heights, Bayview, and the Excelsior Neighborhood District, Flowercraft has consistently been serving and supporting these multiple communities. During the Christmas holiday season, Flowercraft transforms the garden center as a Christmas tree wonderland for the community. With a surplus of trees, trees are donated to multiple organizations in the Bayview, Hunters Point, Tenderloin, and the Mission. Flowercraft has provided monetary assistance and funding to multiple fundraising events, community gardens, neighborhood garden tours and local schools. Some specific organizations include City of Dreams, Interfaith Housing Development Corporation, NCH Community Garden, Rooftop School, Urban Wildlife Rescue and so many more.

The business’s location at 550 Bayshore Boulevard is a Category B (Unknown / Age Eligible) structure on the west side of Bayshore Boulevard between Cortland Avenue and Hilton Street. It is within the PDR-2 (PDR PRODUCTION, DISTRIBUTION, AND REPAIR) Zoning District and a 40-X Height and Bulk District. 550 Bayshore Boulevard is located in the Bayshore Boulevard Home Improvement Special Use district, and is within the boundaries of the African American Arts and Cultural Heritage District.
